

MARCH 2002 - RSM sevens competition Honor Oak Park

This tournament was again hosted at the Guys ground by the Royal Society of Medicine. Although a National tournament the competition does not get as good a turn out as the NAMS sevens. Although less teams the competition is a little stiffer with good sides such as Birmingham and Cardiff participating. However on the back of their recent victory Guys were expecting to do well.

The format took the form of a league with the top two teams playing in the final. Some tough matches took place, but in the end Guys managed to come through and win the whole group facing Birmingham in the final. The final was hard fought and very tense right up until the final whistle. Guys scored 2 tries, but then some sloppy defending let Birmingham back into it with a soft try. Some great last ditch defence by Guys managed to hold Birmingham off. Guys were well deserved winners of their second trophy of the year.
